COUNCIL IN SESSION

Important Business Transacted By Borough Fathers.

PLANS FOR NEW BUILDING ACCEPTED

Benjamin Bradley Given the Contract as His Bid Was the Lowest —Col. Amos Mullen Appointed to Succeed Wm. Garis on the Police Force.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Bellefonte Borough Council was held in the Council chamber Monday at 7:30, with President Wm. T. Hillibish in the chair and the following members present: Messrs. Shortlidge, Lowery, Garrity, Shaffer, Brachbill, Valentine and Keller.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Clerk Isaac Mitchell, and after a few trifling corrections they stood approved.

John Wagner requested Council to lay a boardwalk on North Spring, from corner of Gordon property to Beaver street.

Samuel Gault, on behalf of the citizens of East Beaver street, requested Council to lay a walk on Ridge street from Curtin to Beaver street.

Chairman Brachbill, of the Street committee, reported cleaning up part of Bishop, hauling dirt away, etc.; repairing bridges at Jackson's mill and Crider's mill; repairing sewer on Lamb street; also hauled stone off the street to vicinity of Central depot, where they expect to use them in the future.

Mr. Shortlidge recommended the repeal of the Hoy ordinance in regard to gutters; also recommended the repeal of the ordinance allowing people to sod the streets outside of the gutters.

Mr. Valentine, of Water committee, reported laying water pipe on Howard street from Armstrong's to Clark's; cleaning of the spring and of the boilers: no definite conclusion arrived at in regard to walling the spring.

Chairman Shortlidge, of Nuisance committee, stated that they had looked at the stable near Brown row. As there has been no complaint could take no action.

Mr. Brachbill stated that there had been a great deal of complaint in regard to the condition of Cherry alley. Mr. Scholl wants the borough to give him the line, as he wishes to erect a stable on that thoroughfare. A line was furnished Wm. Walker in order that he might build a retaining wall in front of property on South Potter street belonging to his mother.

S. Chas. Seckelman, of New York, representing the Fabric Hose company, exhibited samples of hose for the inspection of Council.

In regard to the requests of Wagner and Gault, they were referred to Street committee to report.

Mr. Shortlidge moved that the Street committee be authorized to confer with Borough Solicitor in reference to doing away with the gutters in front of properties. Carried.

Mr. Brachbill moved that the Fire and Police committee confer with the Fire Marshal in regard to the amount of hose needed, and report at next meeting of Council. Carried.

Chairman Valentine, of Fire and Police committee, recommended H. H. Montgomery for Chief of Police, and Col. Amos Mullen as his assistant. The clerk called the roll and Montgomery and Mullen were unanimously elected.

The Street committee failed to agree on a candidate for Street Commissioner. It was put to a vote, and resulted, Shaughensy 6, Johnson 2. Shaughensy was therefore declared elected.

The Building committee, through Mr. Keller, recommended the adoption of the plans submitted by Mr. Cole, with any revisions the Council should see fit to make; and also invite bids for the erection of same, with the privilege of accepting or rejecting any or all bids. The recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Cole here stated that he had received bids from all the contractors in town who desired to bid. They were opened and were found to be as follows:

Joseph Fox bid, for Mill Hall brick, $4,184.00; for common brick, $3,881.00.

D. Bartley, according to specifications, $4,636.65.

Ed. J. Garrett, according to specifications, $4,327.51.

W. L. Steele, Mill Hall brick, $4,182.00; home brick, $4,113.00.

Benjamin Bradley would take the old building off their hands and build according to specifications for $3,945.00.

Samuel Gault, $4,299.00; if allowed to use common plaster may take off $100.00 from bid.

Mr. Brachbill moved that Mr. Bradley's bid be accepted, providing the Finance committee can find suitable means for obtaining the money.

The joint building committee was then discharged, with thanks of Council.

Burgess Naginey recommended the establishing of a police headquarters; also the proper uniforming of the police. Complaint has been made to him in regard to bicycle riders riding on the sidewalks; they should also be made to carry lamps at night and also to supply themselves with bells.

FLOOD RAVEGES

Even Out in North Dakota the Awful Climax is Felt.

MANY FAMILIES ARE HOMELESS

City of Fargo Flooded and There is a Likelihood if the Waters Rise More the Damage Will be Quite Serious.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—A Fargo, N. D., special to the Dispatch says; The situation is appalling. While the Red river rose only three inches last night, the big Coulee, west of the city, took a second spurt and went up fourteen inches, flooding the entire west side of town and driving hundreds of people from their homes. The water reaches down to Eighth street from Sixteenth street and as far South of the Northern Pacific tracks as the eye can reach. It is a populous resident district, and the effect of the flood is most forcibly felt. All that part of the city south of Front street is inundated; six blocks of Eighth street have gone out this morning, and the flood from the west side of town is so high that the paving on West Front street is going out rapidly. Sidewalks are all afloat and are being used as rests upon which families are moving to dry land.

All along Front street the water is within a few inches of the floors of the principle business houses and a rise of another foot would put the entire city afloat. The Northern Pacific people were afraid to use the bridge this morning and passenger trains were brought across from Moorhead over the great Northern bridge. Passengers were transferred and a special went this afternoon. All bridges are condemned except the Great Northern, which is a steel bridge put in last spring. The water works at Reserve Station were compelled to shut down and the pumps were started up and are doing all in their power to supply the city. There is much suffering among poor families who have been practically destitute all winter and this last blow is most serious. Relief committees operated jointly by the city council and county commissioners established headquarters this morning and will take care of the poor. It snowed this morning for two hours. Sections of the city that no one ever dreamed could be reached by flood are now under water and Broadway with a shore distance on either side, is the only dry spot in town. Old timers have stopped talking of floods and gone to praying for a cessation of hostilities.

Colored People Attended.

Boston, Mass., April 5.—Isaac B. Allen, negro member of the Govenor's Council, arrived home to-day from a week's sojourn in Washington, in time to attend the reception given the Legislature and State officers by Gov. and Mrs. Wolcott at their Commonwealth avenue residence. The reception was also attended by a colored member of the Legislature, Representative Reed, of Boston and his wife.

There was absolutely no distinction visible in the treatment of these members of another race from that accorded other guests. Gov. Wolcott and wife both shook hands cordially with Mr. and Mrs. Reed and Councilor Allen, took the initiative in greeting them, and white butlers waited upon them same as others. It was an informal afternoon function, tea being served by ladies well known in Boston society circle, including Mrs. Henry Parkman, Mrs. James Lawrence, Mrs. Curti Guild, jr., and Mrs. Sohier. Adjt. Gen. Dalton, Gen. Francis Appleton, and Cols. Jewett and Stevens, of the Governor's staff, in full dress uniform, added color to the scene. About 250 people were present.

Held by a Mad Dog.

New York, April 6.—For nearly an hour yesterday morning a small dog which was apparently mad, held twenty-five panic-stricken girls prisoners in a millinery shop at 323 Grand street.

On passing the janitor, who attacked it with a broomstick, the dog made its way up stairs. The girls jumped up on a table where they remained until the animal fell asleep in the doorway. Two of the girls escaped quietly down stairs and found a policeman, who shot the dog to death.

A Breezy Time.

The clash of interest in "A Breezy Time," which will be seen at Garman's Opera House, on Saturday April 10 th, is brought about by the fact that the creditors of a young college student have pursued him out of town, and that the girl he loves has done likewise. It is easily to be seen that comic complications can grow out of this state of things.

It remains to be seen, of course, whether they have been taken advantage of. Leaving the plot all together out of the question, however, the piece is said to bring upon the stage a great many people who have made hits in their time and who have been brought together for the first time in "A Breezy Time." Principal among them are E. B. Fitz, the well-known heavyweight comedian, and Kathryn Webster, a soubrette who is not at all of the conventional order.

Death of a Former Centre Countian.

The following from this mornings Altoona Times, relates the death of a former resident of this county and father of Joshua Folk of this city.

He was aged 82 years and 2 months. The deceased was born in the anthracite coal region and came to this city from Centre county about ten years ago. His wife whose maiden name was Miss Hannah Barthurst, died in Centre county in 1885. He is survived by the following children: Harry, foreman of the lower blacksmith shop; Archie and Eli, of this city; John, of Clarion county, Joshua, of Bellefonte The deceased was a methodist and was a member of the Fifth Avenue church. His long life was one of industry and probity. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Interment in Fairview cemetery.

WORK OF THE FLAMES

The Edison Electric Light Plant Badly Wrecked.

PROBABLY AN INCENDIARY'S WORK

The Loss is $25,000 With Only $10,000 Insurance—Will Rebuild at Once and Be in Full Operation By the First of May.

One of the most disastrous fires that has occurred in Bellefonte for a long time broke out Tuesday night about 12.15 o'clock, and before the firemen had it under control had destroyed the splendid plant of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company and left our town in darkness.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. It started in a room between the office and the engine room, where the company keep their stock of wire, globes and fixtures. It is the opinion of some that it caught from spontaneous combustion, but Supt. Frank Williams informs us that he did not think there was anything in that room of a combustible character.

Engineer Faxon was the only one in the building when the fire broke out. He had barely time, after locating the fire, to sound the alarm, shut down his engine, cut off the lights and make good his escape ere the building was a mass of flames. As it was he was almost suffocated by the dense smoke.

The Logan and Undine Fire companies were soon on the scene and done good work in keeping the fire confined to the Electric Light works, but they could not save it. The water supply was excellent, owing to the efforts of Superintendent Samuel Rine, of the water works.

The annex, in the rear of the main building, containing the boilers is the only part of the works that seems to have escaped without serious injury from the fury of the fire fiend.

The main building is completely gutted, nothing but the bare walls remaining. The engines and dynamos are completely destroyed. The total loss is placed at $25,000, on which there is only $10,000 insurance, making a clear loss to the company of $15,000.

This is a terrible blow to the company, as they have built up from a small beginning one of the finest Electric Light plants to be found in any town of this size in the state of Pennsylvania. It also leaves our town in a bad predicament for light. It has been suggested by some that connection be made with the Electric Light plant at Collins' furnace to furnish light for our streets. Of course, if this is done, it will only by temporary, as it is only a question of a few weeks until our Electric Light works will be in full operation again.

Mr. John Olewine, a member of the company, informed a representative of this paper that everything would be in running order by the 1st of May.

How the fire started is not known While many think, as we stated above, that it was caused by spontaneous combustion, later developments seem to indicate beyond any doubt that it was the work of an incendiary. This should be sifted to the bottom and the guilty party or parties prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

The Electric Light station was built in the spring of 1884. Since then the capacity has been doubled. Two additions have been made to the main building, valuable machinery added and other improvements made. During all these years the stockholders have had no return from their investment.

With their customary promptness the president called a meeting of the directors to order at 8:30 a. m. this morning, when the following resolution was passed unanimously:

RESOLVED, The President is hereby directed to proceed with all possible dispatch to replace our plant and give to our patrons, with the least delay, the customary service.

In pursuance of this resolution the work of clearing the ruins was commenced at 9 a. m., and as we go to press the work of restoring the building is in progress.

Machinery, we are informed by those in authority, will come here by express and be placed as soon as the roof is on the building, and in the meantime their best efforts will be exerted to provide their customers with temporary light.

The same authority assures us that the streets will be lighted early next week and the private consumers served in a few days after.

The following are the present officers and directors of the company:

President, Frank McCoy; Treasurer, Charles F. Cook; Secretary, James Harris; Board of Directors, F. W. Crider, W. R. Jenkins, A. Allison, John Olewine, John P. Harris, Frank McCoy and Charles F. Cook.

That Pe-ru-na is unequaled as a spring medicine is testified by a great many people every spring. When one is run down, listless and tired, depressed with that peculiarly distressing trouble popularly known as Spring Fever. Pe-ru-na should always be taken, as it is sure to give prompt and permanent relief.

Lena R. Stoll, Adrian, Mich., writes as follows: "It affords me much pleasure to testify to the merits of your Pe-ru-na. I can speak in the highest terms of it, having used it for five years as a spring medicine with great benefit to myself and I recommend it to my freinds with like results." J. R. Stuart, Eastland, Tex., the opposite end of the continent, corroborates her statements as follows; "I purchased a bottle of Pe-ru-na and it was used by myself and wife as a spring medicine. I consider it the best dollar's worth I ever bought. My wife has used your remedies with gratifying results."

Our Story Teller.

THE BOER'S REVENGE.

There were four of us in camp—my two chums, Charlie and Jack Asquith, just fresh from the University of Oxford, old Dan and myself. We were on a shooting expedition, and old Dan Solomons, the fourth of our party, had undertaken to act as our guide, philosopher and friend and to show us where the best game could be bagged. After an excessively hot day we had outspanned for the night on the banks of the Umtall river in Mashonaland.

We loved to hear old Dan yarn, and what is more we knew he always spoke the truth.

"There's only one black Sam that ever I had any feeling of respect for," remarked Dan, "and he died 20 years ago. But there," he said deprecatingly, "I can't expect you gentleman to feel the slightest possible interest in a nigger."

We soon disabused his mind on that score.

"I was trying to recollect," he resumed, "where it was I first met poor Topknot, as we used to call him on account of the thingamy he wore on his head—Matabeleland somewhere. The Matabele had raided the kraal where the poor devil had lived, and cleared off every man, woman and child they came across. Topknot only escaped to tell the story. My partner Jan Stoffel, and I had outspanned on the road with a wagon load of goods—I was a trader in those days—and three or four boys, when suddenly a naked Kaffir came rushing into the camp half dead with fright and fell down at my feet. I managed to make out from what he said that he was flying for his life before the dreaded Matabele. He begged for my protection and promised to be my slave forever. Moreover he said he could show me a certain stream where gold pellets, such as the white men loved, were found in great abundance. My partner, a typical Boer, pricked up his ears at this, and urged me—more for what we were likely to gain by it than anything else, I fancy—to do what I could for the nigger, who was really in a terrible state. Then I remembered a half empty packing case which we had. In less time than it takes to tell the goods were emptied out and the nigger told to jump in."

"And did he?" queried Charlie, with lazy curiosity.

"Didn't he!" exclaimed Dan, with emphasis. "How he managed to stow himself away so comfortably fairly puzzled me, but he did. We piled goods of all kinds over him, and had scarcely finished doing so when one of my boys came running up to say that the Matabele were coming. I siezed my gun and pretended to be busily engaged in cleaning it. Jan Stoffel did the same. There were half a dozen young Matabele altogether. As I could see by the light of the moon they were in full war rig and looked mischievous, and it would go hard with poor Topknot, I thought, if he fell into their clutches. They said they were in search of a runaway dog of a Mashona and had traced his spoor to our camp. Had I seen him? one brave asked with a swagger. I said the runaway had been there, but had passed down the road and had crossed the river. At last our bloodthirsty visitors took themselves off—and we weren't sorry to see the last of the pack."

"What became of what's his name?" asked Jack.

"Meaning Topknot?" asked Dan. "Well for two whole days he lay hid in that packing case and we had some difficulty in getting him to come out.

"After that," proceeded Dan, leisurely puffing at his pipe, "Topknot settled down, and the farther we got away from Matabeleland the livelier he became. His devotion to myself was really extraordinary—in fact, Jan Stoffel grew quite jealous of it."

Dan paused a moment, and I inquired whether Topknot had shown him the river where the gold came from.

"Well," answered Dan, with a smile, "he pointed out the river sure enough, but we never got so much as a grain of gold from its bed. A year or two after this there was something like a famine in the land, and trade with the niggers was almost at a standstill. Jan Stoffel, never at the best a sweet tempered man, became brutish and unbearable in consequence. There was a decided coolness between us. One day I returned from shooting to find that Stoffel had tied Topknot to the wagon and was thrashing him unmercifully with a sjambok. Topknot looked at me appealingly."

"What's he done, Jan," I asked quietly.

"Nothing," snarled Jan.

"Then why thrash him?" I asked.

"Because it pleases me to do so," he returned.

"Well, Jan, I think the poor devil has had enough considering he has done nothing to deserve such punishment. Suppose you drop that sjambok."

"I'll see you hanged first," said he, "and if you interfere with me I'll thrash you!"

As he said this he raised the whip, red with nigger's blood and made as if he would strike me. I seized the fellow by the waist and lifting him bodily up sent him crashing among the pots and pans inside the wagon. When he pulled himself together, he was simply livid with rage, and he swore (as only a Boer can swear) that he would be even with me some day or other. I said nothing, but cut the thongs that bound Topknot to the wheel.

"For three months after that my Boer partner never spoke to me unless through sheer necessity. For my part, I instinctively avoided him.

"Well, matters came to a head at last. At the end of that year our partnership was to be dissolved under the terms of our agreement, and we would then go our several ways. The end was but a week off, and one day—I remember it was Christmas eve—I found myself quite alone in camp. Stoffel and the boys were out seeking our Christmas dinner. I looked at the sky and saw the black clouds gathering for a storm. Then I lighted my pipe and planted my back against a wagon wheel to have a good think. I suppose I must have fallen asleep. At any rate I had a most peculiar dream, a dream which haunts me to this day.

"I dreamed that I was Jonah, the chap who's mentioned in the Bible. you know! I thought I stood on the deck of a ship, with the spray of an angry sea beating upon me. I thought the sailors all loooked threateningly upon me, and the remarkable fact about this dream was that the face of every man Jack on board was the face of my partner, Stoffel. Then I imagined that I heard the sailors cry: We will endure it no longer. Cast the evildoer into the sea!' And with a loud cry they lifted me on high and cast me with all their might into the raging sea. I felt the cold waves about me, and as I rose to the surface a great sea monster floated towards me. Then as it gripped me by the waist I shrieked aloud in my agony—and awoke! I found myself saturated with rain, and Stoffel, my partner, standing over me with a devilish leer upon his face.

"I tried to rise, but found I could not move. A leathern rein had been passed twice round my body, and I was securely lashed to the wagon wheel. For a moment I could not grasp the situation. Then I remembered how Stoffel had sworn to be revenged upon me. The heavens were lurid, and the rain was descending in torrents. I tried to move in vain. Then I said, 'Stoffel, what is the meaning of this?' 'It means,' he replied, with a peculiar huskiness in his voice, 'that your time has come. I swore to be revenged upon you, and I will keep my word. Your boys are drowned in the slit yonder, and if you shout your loudest you will never be heard save by me. You shall see what good marksman we Boers are.' With that he went to the wagon and took a loaded rifle—mine—that always hung there. I was too astonished to speak. I found myself wondering what he would do next. 'I give you two minutes,' he said, 'to make your peace above. Even Englishmen, I suppose, have hopes of an ever after.'

"I tried to speak, but could not." continued old Dan, "and those two minutes seemed like an eternity. The lightning flashed in the far distance and the rain fell in sheets. I felt, indeed, that my last hour had come. 'Now,' said Stoffel at length, you'll see how straight a Boer can shoot at 50 paces.' So saying, he turned his back upon me and strode away from me full 50 paces. Then he turned round, and raising his rifle seemed to me to point it deliberately at my heart. There was a loud crash, and I felt a sharp pain in my left shoulder. Stoffel stepped back, and once again pointed his weapon at me. As he did so, however, the sharp report of a rifle rang out, and I beheld Stoffel throw up his arms and fall with a sickening thud face forward to the earth. The next moment my Mashona 'boy,' Topknot, had cut the rein which bound me to the wheel and set me free. Gentlemen," added the old hunter, "I bless the day when first I taught that nigger the way to handle a rifle."

"So I should think, Dan," said Charlie approvingly. "And Stoffel—what of him? Was he dead?"

"As dead as a doornail, sir. The bullet had penetrated his brain."

"And what became of Topknot?" asked Jack.

"Poor chap!" said old Dan, with a tremor in his voice. "He was drowned a few months afterward as we were fording the Shangani."—Golden Penny.

Y. M. C. A. Evangelists at Lemont.

Six young men left their comfortable homes Sunday and went to Lemont to witness for their Master. It was certainly a very disagreeable day, but it did not matter to these young men in the least. They left this place immediately after the afternoon service was over, and arrived in Lemont at 7 o'clock. The meeting was opened by a short song service, and then Secretary Cota, of the Y. M. C. A., spoke, followed by Messrs. Taylor, Markle and Hughes. Their subject was "Christs Miracles," Mr. Walter Bush added a great deal to the music with his flute. Roger Bayard also sang two very pretty pieces, which were highly appreciated.

In behalf of the young men who were there the REPUBLICAN wishes to thank the people of Lemont for their kind and generous greeting, and also Mr. and Mrs. Bathgate, who very kindly served them with supper after the meeting was over. "Even as ye have given it unto these the least of my children ye have given it unto me."

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon was in charge of Emanuel Markle. The interest taken in these Sunday afternoon meetings is something wonderful, and there is always a good attendance of young men.

TABLE TALK

TABLE TALK for April is a "red-letter" number inside as well as out. Among the notable articles is the first of a series of three on "Garnishes" by Mary Ronald, —this one taking up those most attractive and appropriate for use with hot meats; Mrs. M. C. Myer, a delegate to the Mother's Congress held at Washington, D. C., gives a digest of the most helpful and instructive points touched upon during the sessions: and "Scientific Moving" is treated by Eunice H. Barrington, while the departments give the usual number of menus, recipes and general culinary information as well as touch upon many other subjects of interest to the home-maker. By sending name and address to the Table Talk Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa., any of our readers are offered a sample copy of the magazine free.

Wedding Bells.

Wednesday at high noon Mr. Thos. O. Morris, of Bellefonte, and Miss Lydia Gutelius, the daughter of the late S. G. Gutelius, were made man and wife. The happy event occurred at the residence of her brother, Dr. F. E. Gutelius, Rev. Brown of the Aaronsburg Reformed church, performing the solemn rites. It was a quiet affair, only a few of the nearest relatives being present. They intend going to housekeeping in a few days in their future home in Bellefonte. The estimable young couple have our best wishes.—Millheim Journal.

A Splendid Entertainment.

The entertainment given in the presbyterian chapel last evening by Prof, and Mrs. J. J. Lowe, of Philadelphia, was a success in everyparticular. The singing was marvelous, and the pictures; illustrating the beautiful hymns, are masterpieces. The chapel was crowded with people, over 400 being present. Tonight will be the last chance to see it and there will no doubt be a crowded house. The admission is only 10 cents for children, and 20 cents for the older people.

A LARGE TOWN WIPED OUT

The City of Chandler, Okla., Swept By a Cyclone.

MANY LIVES WERE SACRIFICED

After the Terrible Rush of Winds Came Fire, and Later a Heavy Rain, and This Latter Was the Best—Much Wreckage Covers the Town.

Guthrie, Okla., March 31.—The cyclone reported last night struck Chandler at 6 o'clock and completely swept it off the face of the earth. The storm came from the southwest and left scarcely a building of any importance standing. Everything was a mass of ruins in a few minutes. It is reported that 45 people were killed and over 200 injured.

The wrecks of many of the buildings took fire and in a short time an awful holocaust was in progress, many of those injured and buried in the ruins being burned to death. In addition to the people burned to death a large number of the injured are badly burned and suffering intensely. Between the fire, wind and the rain the provisions, medicine, clothing, etc., in the stores were all destroyed, or so badly injured as to be worthless, and unless new supplies arrive at once there will be much suffering

A cloudburst preceded the cyclone. It was nearly 10 o'clock before telephone connection could be secured with Guthrie, and 1 o'clock this morning before any definite news could be obtained. At that time the fire was under control, and about 20 dead bodies had been recovered and 75 or more of the injured cared for. But one physician in Chandler was uninjured, and physicians were sent from this city at midnight, and also from Stillwater, arriving there soon after daylight, and assisting in the care of the injured. There were not half enough coffins to bury the dead.

Ten trees have a house roof hanging on each. Clothing and household goods are scattered in the streets. Dead horses, cows and other animals are everywhere. A pile of ruins has a fine piano on top of it. About $500,000 worth of property is destroyed. Ten thousand people are now on the ground from the surrounding towns and country.

The Presbyterian church, Mitchell hotel and two other buildings are all that remain standing or partly standing. These have been turned into hospitals. Men, women and children are assisting in caring for the unfortunate. The mayor, M. D. Kinney, is doing all he can. The city has put to use all its cash, about $700, for immediate aid. Judge Dale saw the storm approaching, and taking Mrs. Dale, ran to a hollow, where he placed her behind a boulder and crouched beside her, both escaping uninjured. A 2-days-old baby was carried four blocks and not injured, while the mother was crushed in her bed.

In one building five injured people were burned to death and from another the corpses of three children were taken out. Several of the injured became temporarily insane and rushed up and down the streets in a state of delirium.

Was Glad to Return Home.

Lottie Hall, aged 16, daughter of George Hall, left her father's home at DuBois, Monday, leaving a note stating that she was going away to work in a hotel, and that it would be useless for her friends to send after her as she would not come back. Lottie, however, returned home yesterday, penitent, weary and footsore. After leaving her home she cut off her long black tresses and attired herself in a suit of her father's clothes. She tramped to Reynoldsville, and getting no work in that place she went on towards Brookville. Kind people gave her shelter Monday night, but the next day, after walking several miles, she became homesick. She started back and reached her father's house yesterday. She has no desire to leave home again.—Lock Haven Dem.

Fire at State College.

The residence at the State College occupied by Clyde Thomas, was destroyed by fire Tuesday evening.

Japan's Experience With Silver.

The attempt of Japan to maintain a mint ratio that was different from the market ratio was a failure and resulted in denuding the circulation of gold. Bimetallism had failed in Japan as elsewhere.

The decline in the value of money had in Japan the effect it always has had of robbing the laborer and enriching the capitalist. The miserable pittance paid to the wretched operatives must at no distant period lead to a social revolution unless the rate of wages be considerably improved.

In 1872 a family consisting of five members of the lower middle class could subsist on 70 yen a year. In 1893 the cost of living had risen to 180 yen a year. During a period of 22 years the silver yen declined very nearly one-half in its gold value, about two-fifths in its power to buy merchandise and about one-fourth in its power to buy labor.

The gold value of the exports from the United States and England to Japan was over $18,000,000 in 1892 and nearly $31,000,000 in 1896, while the imports of the two from Japan were over $29,000,000 in the first year and less than $31,000,000 in the last year.—Fred Perry Powers in Sound Currency For March 1.

Cheap Confederate Money.

A southern firm advertises 15 varieties of Confederate bills for 25 cents, also a "rare collection of 50 different bills and shinplasters for only $2." Apparently the firm has millions of dollars worth of this money for sale cheap.

What a pity that our old fogy constitution is in the way! But for it the cheap money advocates in any state where they have a majority could buy up this whole Confederate outfit and start in business at once. The amount of prosperity and happiness that could be extracted from this old paper mine would depend upon the size (population) of the state fortunate enough to secure the monetary outfit.

For instance, it would probably give Nevada more than $1,000 per capita and would at once transform her from one of the poorest to one of the wealthiest of states. Instead of sagebrush and prizefights she would teem with granaries and warehouses. Down with a constitution which prevents state home rule in monetary affairs and the manifold blessings of cheap money!

Better Banking Facilities Needed.

Discussing the poor credit and banking facilities of the west and south before the last meeting of the American Economic association, Mr. Thomas G. Shearman said:

In the 11 southern states it is impossible that one-tenth of the farmers could have any bank accounts or could ever draw checks in payment for their retail transactions. In the recent campaign the successful candidate received the votes of 23 states, the defeated candidate the votes of 22. The 23 states hold 92 per cent of all bank deposits and depositors. Deducting from the other 22 states the silver states and a few large cities, the remaining vast agricultural section of the country, having 40 per cent of the population and 75 per cent of the area, has less than 4 per cent of the bank deposits and depositors. This suggests what was the real grievance of this mass of voters, although they did not themselves understand it. Their banking facilities are proportionately only one-sixteenth of the rest of the country.

Wyoming's Common Sense Action.

By defeating an unqualified free silver resolution and substituting a resolution in favor of free coinage of gold and silver by international agreement, the Republican legislature of Wyoming taught a lesson of common sense and practical politics to all the states of the northwest. The free coinage of silver on any other basis than that of actual value is a delusion which was effectually disposed of last November.—New York World.

The House Builded on the Sands.

Death of Mrs. John Reed.

Mrs. Mary M. Reed, wife of John H. Reed, of Coleville, died Friday morning at half-past four o'clock, of pneumonia. She had been ill but three days.

She was 45 years of age and the mother of six children, namely: Nancy, Eliza, Elizabeth, Blanche, Benjamin and Grace.

Mr. Reed and family have the sincere sympathy of the public in this their hour of great sorrow.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her late residence. Interment at the Forge cemetery.

—The State College Glee and Mandolin Club gave an excellent entertainment in Garmans Opera House Wednesday night before a small audience. They deserved much better patronage.

Cincinnati's Fire Department Had a Lively Time Sunday.

TOTAL LOSS ESTIMATED AT $400,000

Big Flouring Mill Burned at Honesdale and a Large General Store at White Mills, Wayne County, Consumed by Flames.

Cincinnati, O., April 4.—At one o'clock this morning the central fire tower was notified of a blaze in the George F. Otte Co.'s carpet store, on the south side of Fourth street, one door west of Third street. The entire fire department was called out and a battle royal began. Otte's entire store, valued at $300,000, and insured for $150,000, was destroyed in less than two hours. The entire interior of the Otte building was burned out and the rear wall fell into Baker alley.

The fire communicated to the roof of Henry Rosenbaum's cloak manufacturing establishment at the corner of Race and Fourth streets. It was confined to the top story, however, and otherwise Rosenbaum's damage is wholly by water; fully insured.

The Meader furniture warerooms adjoined Otte; a great tailoring establishment was separated from Otte's by an alley and across the street from Rosenbaum's was the St. Nicholas hotel. None were injured. The total loss to the buildings and stock will be $400,000. The buildings belong to the Eckstein estate and are fully insured.

Honesdale, Pa., April 4.—The flouring mill of Kuhbach & Seaman was totally destroyed by fire today, together with 5,000 bushels of corn and all the other stock. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $8,000. The plant was one of the oldest industries in the town and was known as the Kimble mill. The senior member of the firm is John Kuhbach, an ex-member of the Pennsylvania legislature.

The large general store of J. S. O'Connor, together with the stock, dwelling and barns, located at White Mills, five miles from here, was totally destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. The loss is about $20,000, partly insured. The origin of the fire is not known. The hardest kind of work was necessary to save the large glass works of Dorflinger & Sons and the surrounding dwellings from destruction.

JOS. HORNE & CO

HALF PRICE—

Our prices are always the very lowest that can be put on goods, but once in a while we get a chance to make some fearful cuts. One of these chances has come in some very good goods, and goods very seasonable.

They are Silk Warp Linen Tissues, All-Linen and Silk and Linen Fabrics, for fine warm weather dresses; they used to cost from One Dollar to Three Dollars a yard. We will sell them at just One-Half as long as the lot lasts. State how much you want to pay and let us send you some samples.

The goods are the most fashionable fabrics on the market, and at these prices are also the cheapest.

Here's another chance in Plain Diagonal Cloth, very handsome and fashionable goods, in all the new Spring shades. A fine imported fabric which always costs 75 cents a yard except when we cut prices on it. It is selling here now for Fifty cents a yard.

Get samples of the finer kinds of All-Wool Suitings in new and correct Spring patterns, which we are selling at Twenty-five and Thirty-five Cents a yard. You will wonder how such excellent materials can be sold so cheap.

TURKEY IS VERY DEFIANT.

Declines the Proposition Made By Greece to Buy Crete.

SHE DEPENDS UPON THE POWERS

These Latter Finally Decide to Blockade the Gulf of Athens but More Ships Will Be Needed For the Purpose.

Berlin, April 1.—A dispatch from Constantinople to the Frankfort Zeitung declares that a proposal to purchase the Island of Crete, made to Turkey by Greece, has been declined by the porte, which would not undertake separate negotiations so long as Turkey remained in accord with the European concert.

Athens, April 1.—Some of the British warships employed in blockade duty in the waters of Crete have captured three small Greek sailing vessels. Much indignation is expressed here over the affair, as it is pretty clearly established that at the time the vessels were captured they were outside the limits of the blockade.

London, April 1.—It is credibly stated here that the admirals commanding the fleets on duty at Canea and other Cretan ports have applied to their respective governments to each send fifty cavalry and half a battery of artillery, which, they declare, are required to be used for garrison purposes.

Canea, April 1.—A person who just returned from visiting the insurgents at the camp of Col. Vassos, the commander of the Greek troops, states that in conversation with the insurgents he was told that they would always be willing to communicate with the European troops under a white flag, provided no Turks were present. They admitted that it was impossible for them to fight against combined Europe, but declared that they were acting under orders from the Greek governmen in battling with the Turks.

Athens, April 1.—Although there has been no definite occurrence to show that it is the intention of the powers to blockade the coasts of Greece, it is felt that such a blockade will shortly be established. Its imminence is causing an increase in activity. All the officers of the fleet have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to sail from the coasts of Epirus and Thessaly. The energetic preparations that are being made continue to evidence the staunch patriotism of the citizens.

Owing to the lack of government transports merchants are lending a large number of handy coasting steamers to the authorities. These vessels, which are admirably suited to carrying troops and stores, are plying day and night between the Piraeus and the ports on the Greek frontier.

So far as essentials are concerned the troops on the frontier are already prepared to take the field. There is no evidence of weakening on the part of the king or government. M. Dalyannis, the prime minister, conversing to day with some members of the Boule, said: "Our efforts have been directed towards friendly settlement of the trouble, but a pacific solution now appears improbable. Events, however, will find us ready."

—Messrs. C. W. Smith and W. G. Mattern, of Milesburg, this county, representing E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, proprietors of the well known medicines advertised in this paper, were in town on Tuesday evening, in the interest of their firm. These gentlemen are wide-awake salesmen and seem to be quite successful in pushing DeWitt's reliable remedies to the front. We had a pleasant chat with them and found them social, all-round fellows, whom it is a delight to meet any day.—Millheim Journal.

Sales Talk

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk," and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than accorded any other proprietary medicine. This is simply because it possesses greater merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. All advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla itself, are honest. We have never deceived the public, and this with its superlative medicinal merit, is why the people have abiding confidence in it, and buy

Shied at a Bicycle.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNaul, of Nittany Valley, met with a serious mishap Sunday morning while they were driving to Lock Haven to attend church. When within a short distance of the stone bridge at Mill Hall, the horse Mr. McNaul was driving frightened at a wheelman who was passing at a rapid rate. The animal made a leap towards the creek and plunged down a precipice about 30 feet high. The wheelman who caused the trouble did not stop, but road away as fast as he could.

A gentleman who saw the accident ran to the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. McNaul, calling for help as he ran. Mrs. McNaul was found lying on a ledge at the foot of the precipice, and Mr. McNaul was found to be under the buggy in the creek. He was taken out and both he and his wife were carried to a house near by, where Dr. J. B. McCloskey gave them attention.

Mrs. McNaul was found to have her right arm and the thumb of her left hand broken. She was also badly bruised about the chest. Her husband had no bones broken but he was badly bruised. They were both taken to their home later in the day. The name of the wheelman who caused the accident has not been learned.—Lock Haven Express.

THE FLOOD VICTIMS.

Rising Waters in the Northwest and South Increasing the Distress.

SITUATION AT FARGO APPALLING

Hundreds of People Driven From Their Homes in the Lively North Dakota City—Mississippi's Governor Asks Congress for $100,000 Appropriation

Fargo, N. D., April 7.—The situation is appalling. While the Red river rose only three inches Monday night, the big Coulee, west of the city, took a second spurt and went up 14 inches, flooding the entire west side of town and driving hundreds of people from their homes. The water reaches down to Eighth street from Sixteenth street, and as far south of the Northen Pacific tracks as the eye can reach. It is a populous resident district, and the effect of the flood is most forcibly felt.

All that part of the city south of Front street is inundated. Six blocks of Eighth street have gone out, and the flood from the west side of town is so high that paving on West Front street is going out rapidly. Sidewalks are all afloat, and are being used as rafts upon which families are moving to dry land. All along Front street the water is within a few inches of the floors of principal business houses, and a rise of another foot would practically put the entire city afloat.

The Northern Pacific people were afraid to use the bridge yesterday, and passenger trains were brought across from Moorehead over the Great Northern bridge. Passengers were transferred, and a special went yesterday afternoon. All bridges are condemned except the Great Northern, which is a steel bridge put in last spring. The water works at reserve station were compelled to shut down, and pumps were started up and are doing all in their power to supply the city.

There is much suffering among poor familes, who have been practically destitute all winter, and this last blow is most serious. A relief committee operated jointly by the city council and county commissioners established headquarters yesterday, and will take care of the poor. It snowed yesterday for two hours.

Sections of the city that no one ever dreamed could be reached by flood are now under water, and Broadway, with a short distance on either side, is the only dry spot in town. Old timers have stopped talking about floods and gone to praying for a cessation of hostilities.

Henry Struive and two sons were drowned yesterday near Frankfort, S. D. This makes six deaths from drowning during the present overflow. The water is eight feet higher than the highest water mark heretofore. There has been great loss of grain and stock.

At Lacrosse, Wis., the condition of the river is very threatening. Basements of the wholesale houses along Front street are flooded, and the water is still rising rapidly. The tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway are under water.

THE SOUTHERN FLOODS.

Mississippi's Governor Asks of Congress a $100,000 Appropriation.

Memphis, April 7.—The feature of the flood situation in the Mississippi delta is the gradual spread of water over an area that hitherto was never overflowed. The upper crevasse in Tunica county is 2,000 feet wide, and so great is the outpoar that water from below the break is being drawn up to and hurled out over the valley through the crevasse. All of the country east of the main line of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road is flooded, and in many places the water has gone over the tracks, filling the Yazoo river. The fall in the main channel at Helena, Greenville, Vicksburg and Arkansas City is due to the filling up of the delta and the Lower White river country.

If the lower levees along Louisiana and southeastern Arkansas should hold the emptying of the delta and St. Francis basin will be slow. If they break, and the river continues to fall at Cairo, the upper St. Francis basin and the delta will be clear of water by May 5. If this should prove true there will be no difficulty in growing cotton. But breaks in Louisiana and southeastern Arkansas will hold water in that locality until the middle of May, after the usual time for planting cotton in that territory.

The governor last night telegraphed Secretary Alger asking for an appropriation of $100,000 from congress, which he says will close the crevasses in this state, give employment to all the needy, and enable people to work the land in 30 days.

Filibustering Expedition Prevented.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 5.—The cruiser Vesuvius prevented a Cuban expedition from leaving Fernandina Saturday night and captured the tug Alexander Jones, of Wilmington, N. C. The tug was preparing to carry an expedition headed by General Sanguilly, which was to be placed on board the steamer Bermuda. The Bermuda was seen, but the vessel was outside the three mile limit and under the British flag, so that the commander of the Vesuvius had no authority to detain her. The tug will probably be fined for violation of the navigation laws in having only two lights displayed.

To Oppose Rivera's Execution.

Washington, April 6.—The senate yesterday, by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution reciting the reports that General Ruis Rivera, the Cuban commander, is about to be tried by drumhead court martial and shot, and expressing the judgment of the senate that if these reports are true the president of the United States should protest to the Spanish government against such a violation of the rules of civilized warfare. This resolution does not go to the house of representatives and becomes effective as a measure of advice to the president by its adoption.

Julio Sanguilly's Pledge.

Washington, April 5.—If Julio Sanguilly goes to Cuba he will do so at his own risk. Secretary of State Sherman said today: "I have his written pledge that he will not take active part in the insurrection. If he should do so, he will take his life in his own hands. We should never interfere in his behalf again."

STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

An Unusually Dull Day on the New York Stock Exchange.

New York, April 6.—Interest in selling of stocks was very languid on the Stock Exchange today, and the market was apparently afflicted with an attack of spring fever. Many of the stocks which are usually dealt in had not a single sale recorded to their credit and others showed only a few odd lots, with not a single full share lot to make a quotation. Fluctuations in the main were very narrow, not offering a sufficient margin to invite operations even by the professional traders. Closing bids:

TURKS MUST SETTLE UP

The Administration Has Tired of the Sultan's Many Delays.

MR. FOSTER FOR AMBASSADOR.

The President Will Ask For Power to Send the Ex-Premier to Deal With the Turks and Compel a Prompt Settlement of All Existing Claims.

Washington, April 7.—The adoption of a vigorous policy to secure from the Turkish government a settlement of the claims preferred by the United States on account of the destruction of American missionary property and outrages to American missionaries committed during the uprising against the Armenians in the fall of 1895 is being considered by the new administration, and probably will be put into operation soon. President McKinley's program contemplates the sending to Constantinople of Hon. John W. Foster, former secretary of state, as a special envoy, with the rank of ambassador, to secure from the sultan the payment of the claims which have been filed, and the speedy trial of those American citizens against whom charges have been made by Turkish officials.

The president probably will send to congress a message recommending that authority be given him to commission a special ambassador to Turkey for this purpose, and while no name will be proposed by the message Mr. Foster will be entrusted with the mission in the event that congress gives to the president the power which he desires. Mr. Foster has already been asked to undertake the mission, and, although he was at first reluctant to accept it, he finally consented to do so on certain conditions.

The program has been under consideration for several days, and meets the approval of leaders in congress of both parties who have been consulted. President McKinley and Secretary Sherman discussed the unsatisfactory policy of the Turkish government touching American claims soon after the administration came into power. It was suggested first that the representative of the United States be raised to the rank of ambasador, and Mr. Foster be given the office, but this proposition had several drawbacks, one of them that a mission once advanced to ambassadorial ranks could not well be reduced afterwards. Moreover, Mr. Foster did not care to accept such an office.

Under the proposed arrangement Mr. Foster may be sent to Turkey when the resignation of Minister Terrill is accepted, to serve there as envoy extraordinary, with the rank of ambassador, until his work has been performed, and then give place to the minister who will be appointed as Mr. Terrill's successor. No reflection upon the abilities of Minister Terrill will be involved in this plan, for any representative with the rank of minister works under a heavy handicap at a capital where all the large powers and several of the smaller ones are represented by ambassadors.

Several questions are at issue between the United States and Turkey as a result of the Armenian troubles. Claims amounting to $150,000 have been presented to Minister Terrill on account of the damages done to the Euphrates college at Harpoot, which is the property of the American board of foreign missions, to the Marash Theological seminary and the residence of an American misionary at Hasquey, a suburb of Constantinople.

Remonstrances have been made on account of the treatment of Rev. G. P. Knapp, an American missionary, who was stationed at Bitlis and was expelled from the Turkish empire on a charge of inciting Armenians to rebellion. Mr. Knapp has been unable to secure admittance to Turkey or to secure a trial, although it is claimed that his banishment without trial is in violation of treaty rights. The deportation of another missionary working for the American board, Mr. McCallum, was admitted at the time Mr. Knapp was deported, but when Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, learned that he was a citizen of Canada he made such vigorous representations to the sublime porte that the missionary was escorted back to his post. Mr. Knapp is now waiting in Berlin for permission to return. Similar charges to those against him were preferred against other missionaries, who were not expelled, but they have not been brought to trial.

The sultan has refused to recognize Messrs. Bergholz and Hunter, who two years ago were sent by the United States as consuls to Erzroum and Harpoot. They reached their posts after some trouble, but being unable to secure recognition or perform their duty as consuls they withdrew, and a few months afterward occurred the disturbances at Harpoot in which the American college was looted and property worth $100,000 destroyed. Mr. Bergholz has since returned to Erzroum, but has not been recognized. No apology or explanation has been offered, nor any redress given for any of these acts. President Cleveland and Secretary Olney at one time considered the advisability of blockading the port of Smyrna to secure redress, but abandoned the idea, partly because the revenues of the custom house were mortgaged to European governments.

The new administration desires to secure the payment of the claims for damages referred to by Mr. Terrill, to secure trials for Mr. Knapp and other Americans against whom charges have been made, to gain permission for Mr. [illegible] to return to his post, and to [illegible] who have been accredited [illegible] recognized.

Called to a Greater Work.

Mr. Hugh McA. Beaver of this place, who has for the past two years held the position as College Secretary of the Young Mens' Christian Associations of Pennsylvaina, has received a call to become General Secretary of the Intercollegiate Young Mens' Christian Association in New York City. He has accepted the call, and will enter upon his duties September first.

Mr. Beaver has rendered valuable service to the College Associations since his connection with the works in this State. He has developed and enlarged the organization in Colleges and Normal Schools, and has brought the knowledge of the College Association work to a greater number of young men year by year. The spiritual tone and life of the colleges has been of a higher order, and in many institutions great revivals have been carried on under his directions. The association workers throughout the state will greatly miss Hugh Beaver from their ranks; but in no place will the loss of his presence be felt greater, than in the Bellefonte association; where he is dearly loved by both christians and non-christians. His very presence is a power, we have not known a more unselfish, whole-hearted, painstaking worker than Mr. Beaver, always showing in his life that spirit which characterized the life of the Christ, while on earth.

Bellefonte has sent out men to battle with the great problems of life, both in state and church; but none ever went out with brighter prospects and promise of a useful life than will Hugh Beaver. We predict for him great success in his new field of labor.

News From Cuba.

Havana, April 6.—Captain General Weyler left Cienfuegos, provinre of Santa Clara, yesterday on board the steamer Conception, and has since passed by the ports of Trinidad and Tunas, in the same province. He is believed to be on his way to Jucaro, the port in Pnerto Principe, which is the southern extremity of Moron-Jucaro military line.

Crowds of people gathered at Cienfuegos to bid the captain general farewell, cheering and crying "Viva morality" in recognition of General Weyler's attempt to purify the administration of Cuba.

Brigadier Hase has been transferred to the Moron-Jucaro trocha and Brigadier Beballes has been placed in charge at Holguin. The Marquis De Molins has been repeatedly attacked by the insurgents at Portillo and Mora, but, according to the official account, he has "invariably dispersed them with musketry and artillery."

It is officially stated that eleven armed insurgents have surrendered to Colonel Bays, commanding the vanguard of the Spanish troops on the west trocha near Artemisa. There have been a number of minor skirmishes in that locality.

DEATH MADE TO WAIT

Murderer's Execution Deferred By an Accident.

WM. HAAS GRANTED A RESPITE

Dynamo Connected With Ohio's New Electrical Chair Burns Out—Gov. Bushnell Had Refused a Respite in the Afternoon But Under the Circumstances Agreed to Delay.

Columbus, O., April 7.—Although Gov. Bushnell refused this afternoon to commute the sentence of William Haas, the Cincinnati murderer, who was to have been the first victim of the electric chair in Ohio, at midnight tonight, the execution did not take place.

At 3:30 this afternoon, while a final test of the electrical machinery at the penitentiary was being made the dynamo burned out. The machinery had been tested five times previously, and the dynamo had carried 1,500 to 1,600 volts readily. The final test was just being finished when the accident occurred, and the attendant in the electrocution room stated that the current then registered only 500 volts, although it had registered as high as 1,800 volts during the test. As no one was in the dynamo room at the time of the accident except the prisoners detailed to take care of the machinery, some of the officials suspected the dynamo had been tampered with, but the prisoners indignantly denied the imputation.

Harry Canfield, the electrician, after an inspection, gave it as his opinion that the burning out of the dynamo was due to the collection of copper dust on the interior of the machine. He thought it possible to repair the dynamo so that the electrocution could take place, but the probability of another accident induced the board of managers to question the advisability of proceeding with the electrocution. If the electrocution should fail, or there should be any scene, they would be condemned by the public. Conference was accordingly sought with Gov. Bushnell, and it was decided to grant the condemned man a respite until the dynamo could be repaired and tested, April 21 being the new date fixed.

Contrary to previous custom the death warrant had been read to Haas during the afternoon. He was found playing checkers with the other annex inmates, and when the warrant had been read resumed the game as though there had been only an ordinary interruption. He retained his indifference during the afternoon and evening, and was not notified of the respite until late tonight.

The crime for which Haas was condemned to death in the electric chair was the murder of Mrs. Wm. Brader, in Cincinnati, on the morning of July 3, 1896. Haas, who is but a boy—barely 17 years old now—was employed by Mrs. Brader's husband to assist him in gardening. On the morning of the murder Brader had gone to market, leaving Haas at home with his wife. According to Haas' own confession, he assaulted her and then cut her throat with a razor.

An Unwelcome Enoch Arden.

Kingwood, W. Va., April 6.—John Whaley, a prosperous young merchant of Meykel's Mills, Monroe County, W. Va., who in 1876 married Mary J. Tanner, a farmer's daughter, and about a year later left for Baltimore to buy goods, was never seen or heard of again until last Friday, when he returned. Mrs Whaley gave him up for lost, but never married. She conducted the store and postoffice until their son, whom Whaley had never seen, was able to take charge. Whaley gives no very satisfactory account of his whereabouts during his absence or his reasons for leaving. Mrs. Whaley has not decided whether to resume the marriage relations with him or not, as she is now independent and does not regard his actions favorably.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 5,1897.

The Dingley tariff bill having last week passed the House, receiving every Republican vote. five Democratic votes and one Populist vote, is now in the hands of the Senate Committee on Finance. Every statement made concerning changes in the bill by that committee is a guess. Senators Allison, Aldrich and Platt of Conn., who have been going over the bill as a sub-committee, are not the kind of men to announce their conclusions, even when they have definitely arrived at them, to the public, before making their report to their colleagues on the committee. When the committee decides upon the amendments to the bill will be time enough to praise or criticise its work. Until then your guess is as good as anybodys, if you must have a guess.

The honor of being the first fourth-class postmaster appointed by President McKinley fell to John P. Kelley, of White Cloud, Kansas. The delay in making appointments of this class was owing to the change in the office of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General. Mr. Bristow is now occupying that position and will proceed as rapidly as possible to fill the 2,500 vacancies which have accumulated since the new administration came in. There will probably be an average of about 50 appointments a day made until the work gets up to date.

Senator Elkins has for a long time been studying the question of how best to restore the old time prestige of American shipping. As a result of that study he made a very strong speech in the Senate in favor of his bill providing for the imposing of duties upon imports in a manner that will discriminate in favor of American ships.

President McKinley seldom makes promises in connection with appointments, but he has made one that will please every patriotic American, that is, to appoint young Phil Sheridan a cadet to West Point as soon as he reaches the age of eligibility, which will be sometime next year.

Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, is a good lawyer, and the following opinion from him on the decision of the Supreme Court which so many persons, especially Democrats, profess to think is opposed by the amendment to the tariff bill making the duties imposed by that bill go into effect April 1, and upon the right of Congress to pass such an amendment, is both timely and interesting. After citing other misunderstandings, Mr. Grosvenor says: "Simply and solely what the Supreme Court did hold was that the Wilson law, which went into effect on the 28th day of August, and was said to take effect from the 1st day of August, did not repeal the McKinley law until the day when it was passed, and how anybody could have had a doubt about that is a mystery to me, but the Supreme Court did not hold that the long line of retrospective legislation in the Wilson law was not approved. That law bristles with retrospective legislation. Whiskey in bond and not in bond that had been manufactured and deposited in the bonded warehouse or was on that day deposited at a tax of 90 cents, was immediately raised to $1.10. New bonds were required, the whole system remodeled, but no lawyer in the United States ever disputed the power of Congress to pass just such an enactment. The best evidence of the popular estimate of this retroactive amendment is found in the fact that the vast body of importers, who presumably have the very best legal advice at their command, have all accepted as conclusive that Congress has that power."

President McKinley's appointments have been uniformly good, and even his bitterest political opponent has found it extremely difficult to criticise any of them, and his appointment of Major Benj. Butterworth to be Commissioner of Patents is commended by everybody, including Democrats and Populists. This is just as it should be, for Major Butterworth as Commissioner of Patents is surely the right man in the right place. He is an able lawyer and statesman of wide experience, and having been Commissioner of Patents once before, and had service on the House Committee on Patents, is thoroughly familiar with the important duties of the position. He is quite large enough for a cabinet position, or for that matter for the highest position in the country. But there are few public places in which a man of Major Butterworth's equipment can do so much good as in the Patent Office. The practice in, and especially out of that office is desperately in need of reform.

Hon. Henry Clay Evans, the new Commissioner of Pensions, is now in charge of that office. He says his policy will be to justly administer the pension laws, and his record is such that his old comrades have every confidence in his doing so.

"I used Salvation Oil for rheumatism and found it a sure cure. # Wounded and Paralyzed.

AN OLD VETERAN OF THE WAR AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING HAS A SHOCK OF PARALYSIS.

From the Press, Utica, N. Y.

Mr. David G. Talbot is a well-known and respected citizen of Otsego County, New York, residing at Edmeston, who three years ago had a stroke of paralysis, which he attributes to the effects of a wound received on the 16th of June, 1864, before Petersburg, Va., while serving with the New York Heavy Artillery.

The following is his own account of his illness and convalescence, which will be found interesting:

EDMESTON, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1896.

"On the fifth day of December, 1893, I was taken with a paralytic shock, which affected the whole of the left side, and I could not speak for three weeks. I was confined to my bed for a long time and constantly attended by a physician, though little relief was experienced. My stomach and the muscles of my throat were much affected. I was wounded in June, 1864, at Petersburg, Va., having then lost three fingers of my left hand, and that always affected me in a marked degree, my arm often becoming numb. I should state that on the day I received the stroke, I had two distinct shocks, the first in the morning, which was so light that the doctor was not at all alarmed, but the second nearly finished me up. Ever since the war I had suffered with nervous debility and my condition was very bad when I was attacked. I am now sixty years old and hardly dared look for anything approaching good health after my life of suffering, but I saw so much said about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in the newspapers, and that they were good for paralytics, that I determined to try them. This I did just one year and four months ago. I strictly followed directions and felt better within a week. I am not the same man I was when I began to take Dr. Williams' medicine. My old comrade Norton, who was in the same company and regiment with me, and was a grievous sufferer from general nervous debility, at my recommendation has taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they have helped him wonderfully.

"I certify on honor that the above statement is true in every particular.

(Signed) DAVID C. TALBOT."

Witness JOHN C. LAPPEUS.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

The Duty of Patrons

One of the first principles of the Grange is to inculcate and foster co-operation among farmers. The advantages to be derived from co-operative action in buying and selling are so well understood it is not necessary to more than allude to it at present. But the benefits of the system are not confined to purchase and sale alone. There are many other ways in which mutual advantages may be secured which tend to build up our organization and enlarge its influence and power and enable it to assist our people to a still greater degree than it has in the past.

When the Grange was first instituted in Centre County its operations and benefits were confined to the subordinate Granges. But this was soon found to be too limited a field, and the importance and necessity of a county organization was demanded and secured. That advanced step materially increased the usefulness of the organization. It was a forward movement and afforded its promoters a larger field for usefulness. It brought the several subordinate Granges together in counsel for mutual benefit and enabled the several Granges combined in one—"E plurebus unum"—to accomplish what the individual granges could not do.

Through the united effort of the County Grange the Patrons Insurance Company was organized and chartered and in the last 20 years has saved our people thousands of dollars. A little later the Picnic association was formed and by united co-operative effort has built up an institution that any organization may well be proud of. It is one of the noted institutions of the central part of the State. Organized without capital and without advances from any scource through the co-operative influence of the Patrons of the county it now owns unincumbered real estate worth from eight to ten thousand dollars.

Our well defined declaration of purposes enumerates among other things the following. "We propose meeting together, talking together, working together, buying together, selling together, and in general acting together, for our mutual protection and advancement, as occasion may require." These principles faithfully carried out will give to the organization greater usefulness and enable the grange to advance step by step in accomplishing the mission sought by its founders

But Patrons must not cease their efforts. The work will not progress without co-operative effort. They cannot expect valuable results for nothing. All that has been gained to the order has been the outgrowth of co-operatives labor, and if we desire to continue in well doing and secure additional advantages in the near future, all must lend a helping hand. Let the members of subordinate Granges, as far as practicable unite with the Country Grange and build it sure and strong. Support the Picnic and Exhibition Committee in their efforts to render the annual meetings still more interesting and attractive. Encourage the committee by attendance at the annual gatherings. Devote the week to recreation and profitable entertainments. Speak a word for the Insurance company. Let it be known that it is a Grange Company, organized and conducted by practical every day farmers, in the interest of farmers, and affording ample protection from loss by fire at rates below all other companies.

In order to represent these several interests and assist in chrystalizing others contemplated in the near future it was unanimously determined by the County Grange to establish a monthly paper, devoted entirely to Grange interests and the advancement of agriculture. It was deemed just as important for the County Grange to have an organ to voice the sentiments and principle of the organization as it is for political parties, churches or other societies or classes banded together for specific purposes. "The Patron" is therefore an outgrowth of the co-operative workings of the Grange. It is not published in the interest of any one, nor for private gain, but solely for the benefit of the organization and is as much entitled to the support and confidence of Patrons as any other of our co-operative ventures. "The Patron" is expected to advise our people of the progress of the order, throughout the county and state and thereby arouse additional interest and secure more earnest and intelligent action on the part of Grange workers. A liberal support extended to this department will enable the publishing committee to make the paper more useful to our people and materially assist in the work of the Grange. It is confidently believed a just pride on the part of our great class will give the enterprise such ample support as will render the venture a complete success.

That Bicycle Track.

A special to the Philadelphia Ledger from Bellefonte has this to say of the much talked of bicycle track:

With the near approach of the summer season cyclers are again agitating the project of building a Central Pennsylvania track to connect Altoona with Williamsport, taking in along its route Tyrone, Bellefonte, Lock Haven and Jersey Shore, with intermediate small towns. Last season this subject was brought up, but too late for final action on he part of any organization of cyclists from the various towns. Now it is determined to begin in time, and if it is possible to have the track constructed at all, to have it done so that it will be in use during the major part of the season. Various estimates have been made on the probable cost of the track, and it was found that it would not be so great but that the funds could be easily raised.

She Shot Herself.

At Bradford, on Tuesday morning, Maud Wiser, aged 20, a woman of questionable repute, shot herself near the heart over disappointment in a love affair. She cannot recover. She had formerly lived at DuBois, and while in that place attempted suicide by taking laudanum, but her life was saved by the physicians.

Gave Him a Diamond Stud.

Superintendent E. B. Westfall, of the P. and E. railroad, was presented with a diamond stud by the heads of departments under his control at Williamsport, in honor of that official's 60th birthday. The present was a complete surprise to Mr. Westfall. F. P. Abercrombie made the presentation speech.

What Everybody Says About Brandy.

That the Wines and Brandy of the Speer N. J. Wine Co., Passaic, N. J., are leading all others in public favor. Their Wines are unexcelled for delicacy or flavor, and are pronounced by the most capable judges to be the very best in the market. For pure grape Brandy their Old Climax, vintage of 1876, is admittedly the best to be had and more reliable than French Brandies. Druggists sell it.

Explanations Respecting the Provisions of Senate Bill No 9, Known as the Hamilton Road Bill.

At present the Supervisors of roads in most of the townships throughout the State go out of office annually. The effect of this is to make the tenure so short as to prevent any undertaking that looks toward the permanent improvement of our roads. The bill as proposed provides for a continuous body, not subject to frequent end radical change, and consequently in position to carry out any project looking toward any complete and effective system that they may devise. Under the present law State aid is practically impossible, there being no permanent organization to which such contribution by the Commonwealth could be made. The new law provides a suitable Board, in every way responsible and composed of the most capable citizens in the community.

Under the present system the powers of the Supervisors to incur indebtedness are unlimited. They are authorized by law to levy a tax not exceeding ten mills on the dollar, but they may in addition to this involve the township in debt to an unlimited amount, which debt their successors must pay. They also have authority under the law to levy a special tax for such payment. The proposed law limits the powers of the supervisor in this respect. It grants the Board of Supervisors the power to levy a ten mill tax, as in the case of the old law. Before any greater sum can be levied, it is neccessary for the supervisors, by unanimous consent, to make application to the Court of Quarter Session of the Peace of their county, showing cause why an additional tax should be levied, and giving an opportunity to the citizens of their district to be heard in opposition to their request, and if said request is granted after all the facts are made known to the Court, then in no case shall the supervisors or the Court, levy more than an additional ten mills. This protects the people of every community against the possibility of having their township involved in debt that it may take many years to liquidate.

The present law permits Supervisors to levy a money tax amounting to one-fourth of the entire sum levied. The proposed law authorizes the Supervisors to levy an additional one-fourth to be paid in money, so that machines, implements and material may be purchased and that persons employed to work, at times in which the citizens are otherwise occupied, can be paid.

Out of 1857 Supervisors who replied to the query as to whether road tax ought to be paid in money, 1338 answered in the affirmative, and most of them stated that if the tax were paid in money, they could accomplish more with from one-half to two-thirds of the present tax than is possible with the whole tax under the present conditions. Many of our citizens in the rural communities are heartily in favor of the tax to be paid entirely in money. This bill, however, proposes only one-half in money, and the other half may be paid in labor.

Under our present law Supervisors are expected to personally oversee the working out of the tax by the citizens of the district. This effectually precludes busy men or business men from undertaking this office, because they cannot afford to spend their time away from their business for the compensation that a Supervisor receives. The new law proposes to relieve the Supervisor from this duty, and place it upon a Road Master, who is not elected by those who work under him, but is appointed by the road Supervisors, and who can, therefore insist that a days work shall be performed by each person reporting himself for such service on the public roads. The effect of this system will be to make it possible for the best men in each community to accept the office of Supervisor, and give to the management of our roads the best intelligence that each community possesses, and will insure that the roads will be in charge of a competent workman, who will see that all necessary repairs are made promply and in a workmanlike manner.

The new law also provides for a Treasurer of the Board of Supervisor. This individual is expected to perform the duties of a clerk, to make out the duplicate, keep the records, collect the money and do such other things as may be necessary in order that the work of the Board may be made effective. This individual is not to be a member of the Board, but may be any one outside. The Supervisor may select the township clerk or township treasurer or any other person who is competent to perform the duties of this office. The purpose is: First, to relieve the members of the Board from clerical work; and Second, to insure that the duties of the office will be promptly and efficiently performed.

In no case can the expenses of the Board exceed $54.00 per year for their salaries, thus removing the office from competitors who wish the position for the sake of the money that is in it.

Under the present system the roads are liable to be neglected at season of the year when they most need attention. The new law proposes to district the townships into sections not exceeding twenty miles of road to each section, and places on that section a good common days laborer, who is to keep the road in repair and supervise the labor that reports to him, and see that everything is done in accordance with the directions that he receives from time to time from the Board of Supervisors. This will insure that whatever is done will be kept in place until the next season, and additions made year by year will gradually bring our roads into fine condition.

These are the leading features of the Bill proposed. It is believed that this law will meet the general sense of what is needed in the way of road legislation at this time. Unusual interest has been manifested in it by all classes of our citizens, and the attitude of the farmers of the Commonwealth toward this proposed bill may be judged from the fact that out of one hundred and eight granges who have replied to a memorial asking thei views of the bill, one hundred and on have answered in its favor.

Since the above explanations of Senate bill No. 9 were in types we have received a copy of the bill as ammended by the House committee which strikes out the clause giving the Court authority, upon the applications of the Supervisors, to authorize a levy of 10 additional mills. Also the clause proposing to levy a tax of $1.00 upon every male taxable of the age of 21 years and upward, which relieves the proposed bill of objections which were urged against it as passed by the Senate. As it now stands it contains the main features of the bill suggested by the Legislative Committee of the State Grange, and is shorn of the objectional features contained in the original bill.

Fire on Half Moon Hill.

Thursday night, at about half-past twelve o'clock, fire broke out in the house occupied by John Shawley and family on Half Moon Hill. It caught from a defective flue, and in about twenty minutes was burned to the ground.

Mr. Shawley lost all his household furniture except the bed he was sleeping on; this he threw out of the window in time to save it.

The adjoining house, occupied by Charlie Dan, caught fire from the Shawley house, and in a short time it also was in ruins. Mr. Dan succeeded in getting all his furniture out of the burning building.

Mr. Shawley has been very unfortunate, for during the past ten years he has been burned out three times, losing everything. He carried no insurance.

Both houses belonged to Charlie Dan. The one occupied by Shawley was insured for $550.00, and the one occupied by Dan for $350.00. This will fully cover the loss.

Very few people in town knew of the fire until morning. There was no alarm turned in and in less than three-quarters of an hour both houses were in ashes.

FOREST FIRES ARE RAGING.

Spreading at an Alarming Rate in This County.

Word has just been received here of the rapid spread of forest fires in the surrounding mountains. All efforts to check the flames have so far proved futile and, unless a heavy rain sets in, many thousands of acres of valuable timber will be destroyed. The fire started in the middle section of the Seven mountains from a spark from a locomotive falling on a tract of dry grass. Heavy winds have prevailed for the past two days, and the flames are sweeping fiercely along the mountains from top to bottom. The approach of the fire to the lumber jobs has caused great excitement among the men, many of them leaving their workings.

The course of the flames is constantly changing, making back-firing useless. Different crews have been sent out to fight the fires, but thus far they have accomplished little, and their efforts are now being directed to confining the blaze to the mountains and protecting property in the clearings. The worst damage has been done in the timber lands several miles north of Milesburg.

Another fire has broken out in the Seven mountains, near here. This blaze is in the heart of the hemlock district and is doing much damage.

GENERAL RIVERA SHOT

The Cuban Leader Put To Death At An Early Hour Friday Morning.

COURT MARTIALED ON THUPSDAY

Weyler Was Afraid the United States Government Would Do Something to Save Rivera—The Court Martial Ordered Immediately.

New York, April 2.—A Key West special to the "Evening Sun" says it was stated there on information from Havana that Gen. Ruis Rivera, the Cuban commander captured last Sunday by the Spaniards, was sentenced by the Spanish Court martial to be shot at sunrise to-day. Weyler was afraid the United States government would do something to save Rivera, and consequently his trial was rushed through, the court being ordered to use all diligence in finding its verdict. The debate in the United States Senate was cabled to Weyler and he was determined not to be balked. The sentence of death was practically pronounced before the court convened. A form of trial was ordered in deference to public opinion in the United States.

A Washington special to the "Journal" says that Spain is preparing to withdraw all her active forces from the interior of Cuba, which will be tantamount to her abandonment of the war, but she will cover her retreat by professions of victory. When Weyler returns to Havana, which will be April 15, he will find a royal edict declaring that the war is ended; that the elections for deputies to the Cortes and to the Cuban assembly will be held in Cuba on a date to be fixed by the end of April, and that the reform laws will go into full operation. Simultaneously, the Duke of Tetuan, the Spanish foreign minister, will inform the goverment of the United States, Great Britain, Mexico, France and Demark that the disturbances in Cuba are happily ended, and that commerce may be conducted in security and peace. They will also be informed that Spain will hereafter exercise only a suzerianty over the island, leaving the Cubans to settle the details of their domestic affairs.

A dispatch to the "Sun" from Havana says that Canovas del Castillo, prime minister of Spain, has issued a declaration that the revolution in Cuba has been conquered and that only small bands of insurgents are left in the six provinces.

Gen. Julio Sanguily to-day denied the reports that he intends an immediate return to Cuba. He said that he would remain in the United States for the present and that his rheumatism might cause him to go to Florida until the warm weather sets in.

A Successful Physician.

The Bellefonte Watchman publishes the following complimentary notice of one of Lamar's aged residents:

Dr. Charles Smith, living on the old Custard farm one mile below Lamar, is in feeble health. Dr. Smith is well known in Centre and Clinton counties, having practiced his profession for more than fifty years. He first hung out his shingle, with M. D. attached, about half a century ago at Russeyville when doctors were a rarity and patients many. By dint of his own efforts he amassed considerable wealth, and today owns five fine farms in Clinton and Center counties, which were bought when farm land was at its highest point in value. He was very successful in his profession, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him. Although he has entered upon the shady side of eighty, Dr. Smith has the fullest use of his mental faculties and is replete with reminiscences of many years ago.

Rev. J. W. Rue Cased.

Friday evening a farewell party to J. W. Rue and family was given by the members of his congregation, at the Methodist parsonage on East Linn street. There were just ninety-six persons present and everyone passed a very enjoyable evening.

Before the close of the evening Rev. Rue was presented with a handsome gold-headed cane, which cost $15.00, the sum being raised by subscription among the members of his church. Rev. Rue was very much affected by this evidence of their love and friendship and made a speech which was a sermon in itself, and closed by thanking them heartily for the gift, saying that he had heard of people getting their walking-papers, but he had gotten his walking-stick.

Court House Official Surprised.

Ever since the court house was set on fire there has been a night watchman kept within its walls to catch the incendiary if he should again make his appearance. That fact was not generally known until the other night when an official was called to his office after office hours and was surprised to find a person with a lantern in his hand, a revolver and a bowie knife strapped around him. and a slung shot in the other hand, accompanied by two bull dogs, parading the corridors of the building. The sight of the watchman thus armed and equipped nearly paralyzed the official, as he was unware of such a person being about. It is not probable that the incendiary will again make his appearance under such circumstances, and the watchman can now be safely withdrawn.

Shot at Burglars.

Burglars at Mill Hall Saturday morning caused excitement among the residents of that borough. A gentleman passing S. A. Wilt's grocery store about 1 o'clock this morning saw two men in the back part of the store. He at once apprised Mr. Wilt of what was going on. Mr. Wilt, accompanied by William McCloskey and Elmer Flannigan, went to the store door and saw the men in side. Mr. Wilt shot at them several times, when the robbers made a hasty exit through the rear door and escaped in the darkness. No trace of them has since been found. An examination revealed that the burglars had bored a hole in the doors large enough to remove the lock. They then proceeded to make a search when they were compelled to flee. The only articles they took from the store was a revolver and eighty-three cents in money.—Fridays Lock Haven Democrat.

The Bellefonte Central Shopping Train.

The shopping train on the Bellefonte Central railroad is an assured success. Saturday about fifty people, mostly from Pine Grove Mills, took advantage of the splendid weather and the cheap excursion rate and came to Bellefonte to do their Saturday's shopping.

Bellefonte is to be congratulated on this fact, as it brings us in touch with a bright and progressive class of people, a great many of whom formerly traded at Huntingdon and other places. The thanks of our people are due the railroad company for their enterprise in extending the road to Pine Grove.

Stable Burned.

About 1 o'clock Saturday the good citizens of Milesburg were awakened by the alarm of fire. The fire occurred in the stable of Thomas Adams, on Hazel street, and in a very short time was entirely destroyed. A number of chickens were burned to death and a lot of farming implements destroyed. The loss is about $300, but we were not able to learn whether insured or not. It is not known positively how the fire originated, but it is supposed there was some one in the stable stealing chickens.

Company B Holds Its First Annual Banquet Friday Night

IN THEIR HANDSOME NEW ARMORY

Tendered Them by Capt. Hugh S. Taylor, As a Reward For Their Past Efforts, And an Incentive to Future Work.

The first annual banquet of Company B, 5th Regiment, N. G. P., was held in their handsome armory last evening. It was tendered to them by Captain Hugh S. Taylor, in honor of the splendid showing they made at the last inspection, and also to show his appreciation of the honor they conferred upon him by the beautiful sword which they presented him on that occasion.

It was the regular drill night of the company and about 8 o'clock they appeared on the streets of our town, in full uniform, and gave an exhibition drill, executing the different movements with a skill and precision which called forth the heartiest words of praise and admiration from the hundreds of citizens who lined the sidewalks.

At the close of their drill, which lasted an hour and a half, they returned to the armory, where a splendid feast awaited them, prepared by the skilful hands of that prince of caterers, B C. Achenbach

The large drill room was adorned with the national colors, and the long table, which extended almost from one end of the hall to the other, looked very inviting, especially so to the soldier boys whose appetite had been greatly sharpened by the drill which they went through, for it was beautifully decorated with potted plants and well laden with the good things which the season affords.

Plates were set for sixty people, and about 10 o'clock the boys sat down and for two hours enjoyed the good things set before them. After this cigars were lighted, chairs pulled back from the table, and everyone prepared to enjoy the intellectual part of the program.

Lieutenant George L. Jackson made a splendid toastmaster, and in a witty manner introduced the speakers of the evening. Talk about your after-dinner speakers! Chauncey Depew would have turned green with envy had he been there. The boys demonstrated the fact that there is no lack of oratorical talent in Company B. Many laughable incidents of camp life were related at the expense of some of the boys, big, good natured Phil Garbrick coming in for his full share. The following are the names of the speakers and the toasts they responded to:

"A Soldier's Promotion," Lieut. Charles J. Taylor.

"Troubles of a First Sergeant,' Sergt. P. J. Garbrick.

"Co. B in Camp," ex-Sergt. Claude Smith.

"The Raw Recruit," S D. Gettig.

"Benefit of Military Discipline," Corporal A. Reist Rutt.

"Our Spring Inspection," Corporal W. F. Barnes.

"Our Officers, Past and Present," Corporal M. N. Trone.

"The National Guard," Private Clarence Daley.

"My First Experience," Private Charles Kase.

"The G. A. R.," Private E. J. Williams.

"The Battle of Punxsutawney," Private Geo. A. Eberhart.

"From Navy to Infantry," Private Harry Jackson.

"Co. B, Past, Present and Future," Corporal Boyd A. Musser.

"Fighting Fifth," Sergt. Samuel Taylor.

Informal toasts were reponded to by John Nighthart, Capt. Taylor, T. H. Harter and Chas. R. Kurtz.

This closed the evening's program and with three cheers and a tiger for Capt. Taylor they adjourned, feeling that they had passed a most enjoyable evening.

Apples For Profit.

Farmers frequently speculate as to whether or not there is more money in raising fruit than in the old time farming of the cereals. As an example can be given the product of the fruit farm of William P. Fisher of Unionville, Centre Co, Pa. Exclusive of what he sold during apple season, Mr. Fisher put away for shipment to eastern markets during this winter 6000 bushels of prime apples. From the poorer grades he made 60,000 gallons of cider and 250 barrels of vinegar. The apples he stored for market are all of the most choice grades. He keeps them in cold storage and they come out just as fresh as when picked from the tree. Mr. Fisher has for years made a specialty of fruit farming, but apples are his leading product. For a number of years he maintained a choice vineyard. but of late he has devoted his energies more exclusively to apples, as surer crop and a better money maker.—American Agriculturist.

A Firebug Under Arrest.

Edward Gardner, whose home is about a mile and a half from Howard, Centre county, was arrested on Friday morning on the charge of having set fire to his house a year ago this spring. Officer Henry Montgomery, of this place, made the arrest. He was brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail. Next Monday morning at 10 o'clock he will be given a hearing before Judge John G. Love on a writ of habeus corpus.

New Zealand.

The English Colony, of New Zealand has been making rapid strides in the march of progress in the last few years. With the adoption of the "One-man-one vote" principle the plan of taxation has been changed from a land and personal property tax, (about the same as prevails in the United States) to a graduated tax on the quantity of land, and a graduated income tax, which has proved a "panacea." Heretofore they were almost bankrupted and a monopoly, of about all values, land included, by wealthy magnates and corporations. The franchise was also extended to women and much of the credit is due to them for recent beneficial legislation. As a result of the change in their system, prosperity has increaseed in nearly every branch and farm products are bringing satisfactory prices. Interest has fallen from 6 and 7 per cent to 4 and 5 per ct. Millions of English capital are flowing into the country to develope the gold fields and the credit of the country has at no time stood so high in the English market as its does to-day. $7.500,000 was borrowed from England last year by the Government at 3 per cent.. which money is loaned out to farmers at 4 per cent. per annum. This loan has been a great boon to struggling small farmers who were paying exorbitant rates of interest on their mortgages. Immediately this money became available, interest came tumbling down to 4 per cent. for good freehold security.

We are indebted to the valuable report of Consul Connelly for the foregoing statements, which gives in detail, and closes with the following "To say that this country is more truly democratic than any country in the world, would be merely stating a simple truth; and to say that the present Government is a workingman's Government, is equally true."

It Wasn't a Bluff.

In the first act of "A Breezy Time," which will appear here shortly, there is a burlesque boxing act between the eccentric and Dutch comedians, the long and short of it.

One day last week the Dutchman gave the eccentric an upper-cut which "knocked him out," and delayed the play several minutes, and still the audience did not seem to tumble. A prize fighter who was in the audience and who, it is claimed, has stood before Fitzsimmons, was heard to remark that it was the best imitation he ever saw.

—Laughter is the pepsin of longevity. See "A Breezy Time" and laugh forever.

Centre Co., Farmer's Institutes.

The Department of Agriculture assigned Centre County two Farmers Institutes during the Intitute year just closed. The first was held at Milesburg, March 3rd and 4th and the other at Stormstown, on the 5th and 6th ult. The instructors sent by the State were, Hon. Alva Agee, of Ohio, Hon. A. P. Young, of Columbia Co., and Mr. Enos H. Hess and Miss Anna E. Redifer of State College, than whom it would be hard to find more intelligent workers in their line. Their easy and ready manner of imparting information upon the different subjects discussed, was pleasing and interesting to all who cared to learn.

The Institute at Milesburg was largely attended and a wide interest manifested in the work. The Evening Sessions were especially interesting, the first being set apart for the benefit of ladies and homekeepers and the last devoted to the interest of education for farmers and their children.

The "Query box" was opened at each session, after the first, and many curious and useful questions were asked and answered.

The questions discussed at Milesburg were all up to date. The "fertility of the soil," when and how to use com. fertilizers," "The Silo," the "Good road problem," "Stock feeding" "Suggestions for furnishing and decorating Country Homes The Chatauqua Course in Agriculture," 'The Apiary on the Farm," etc., etc., were discussed with vigor, and much practica information afforded.

In addition to the speakers furnished by the State the local talent programed for the Institute responded nobly and lent additional interest to the several sessions. The music, under the direction of Mr. L. T. Eddy, was elegant. The Bierly Bros. and Mattern combination discoursed beautiful instrumental music which was well received by the large audience.

The Institute throughout was interesting and profitable and satisfactory to the representatives, of the Department of Agriculture who pronounced it among the best.

We are informed the meeting at Stormstown, although we have had no formal report, was well attended and general interest manifested in the Institute work, and a fit recognition of the efforts of the Department of Agriculture to assit in further educating and elevating our great class. Well may Pennsylvania be proud of her sturdy yeomanry.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

A Force in Public Affairs and Potent for Entertainment and Instruction of Every Member of the Family.

A Colored Pictorial Supplement With Every Friday's Semi-Weekly.

THE NEW YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE, the only Semi-Weekly newspaper which has maintained a successful existence in the United States, is printed every Tuesday and Friday. Regular subscription price $2 a year.

A newspaper of really high intellectual quality, printed in the largest and most legible type used in New York, a great, decent, self respecting and instructive journal, THE TRIBUNE is vigorous in support of Republican principles, but places country even above party and has recently won from the Democratic New York Sun the admission that by reason of its thoroughly American spirit, it "commands the respect of all parties" and "occupies a position of distinction in New York.

In directing attention, early and pointedly, to the availability of McKinley and Hobart for the Republican nominations in 1896, THE TRIBUNE played a well known and important part.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE prints the best news, book reviews, foreign letters, editorials, and specia features of THE DAILY TRIBUNE. It has a charming page for women, excellent market reports and information for farmers, a department of Science and Mechanics in which poor inventors can exploit their inventions free of charge, and a great variety of stories and entertaining miscellany. Never unprofitable, full of what is useful and inspiring, every reader of THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE feels that he is in touch with the bustle and best of life.

Men and women leading busy lives have little opportunity for vacation; and for their entertainment and the amusement of the young, the TRIBUNE will hereafter issue, with every Friday's SEMI-WEEKLY, a colored serio-comic pictorial supplement of 16 pages, entitled "TWINKLES." But in order to possess "TWINKLES" a subscriber must hereafter remit the full sum of the SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE—$2 a year—to THE TRIBUNE itself direct.

"TWINKLES" is handsomely printed on superfine paper; and every one of its 16 pages is filled with jokes witty paragraphs, and gossip about noted people, sprinkled amongst which are fifty or more political or other cartoons, in several colors, half-tone portraits of well known men and women (life-like as photographs), and humorous pen drawings,. There is not a word or a picture unfit for the family; and the amusing contents of "TWINKLES" will prove a welcome addition to the more serious contents of the paper.

"TWINKLES" is virtually a five cent comic weekly, price 5 cents a copy; $2 a year. But it is given free to every one who orders the SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE for one year and remits to THE TRIBUNE direct, the regular subscription price of $2 a year. He thus gets two $2 papers for the price of one. This is a bargain, considering that the TRIBUNE is incapable of sending into any family anything which is unfit to be read there.

Sample copies of Friday's SEMI-WEEKLY free.

Those who do not remit $2 to THE TRIBUNE direct will not receive the colored supplement.

WEDDED AT HIGH NOON.

J. Will Mayes and Miss Edith J. Irwin United in Marriage.

The comfortable home of William Irwin, a wealthy farmer of Jacksonville, Centre county, was the scene of a very beautiful wedding Wednesday, April 7th. The contracting parties were Mr. J. William Mayes, of Houserville, and Miss Edith J. Irwin, of Jacksonville. Promptly at 12 o'clock they took their places before Rev. D. L. Jones, of Bellefonte, who proceeded to pronounce the words which made the happy couple one.

Mr. John Bathgate, of Lemont, acted as best man; Miss Eleanor Irwin, sister of the bride, made a very pretty maid of honor; Mr. Allie Irwin, brother of the bride, was groomsman, and Miss Mary Mitchell, of Howard, bridesmaid.

As the bridal party took their positions the sounds of Loghengrin's beautiful wedding march were wafted through the room, played by Miss Lulu Irwin, another sister of the bride.

The bride looked very beautiful in a costume of organdie over white silk, and carried a big bouquet of white roses. The groom was attired in conventional black and presented a handsome, manly appearance.

Miss Eleanor Irwin, the maid of honor, was attired in pale blue organdie, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Mary Mitchell wore a costume of dotted swiss over blue silk

The room where the ceremony took place was festooned with laurel, and in the East end, where the bridal party stood, was a bank of beautiful flowers.

A splendid wedding breakfast was served to all present. Everything looked very pretty, the table being adorned with white and pink carnations and smilax.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, and the groom a popular young business man. He is a member of the firm of J. B. Mayes & Son., granite and marble dealers, of Houserville, Pa. The bride and groom departed over the Reading railroad, Wednesday afternoon, for Philadelphia and other eastern cities, followed by the hearty congratulations and best wishes of their many friends.

The only guests present outside of their immediate families were as follows: Mr. John Bathgate, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grove, of Lemont; Miss Keller, of Houserville; Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and family, and Miss Nixon, of Jacksonville; and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allen, of Pittsburg.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention the REPUBLICAN and send your full post office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y.
